The Orangery

between music, monarchy and world history

1754

Imperial Flair

The Schönbrunn Orangery is completed. It serves not only to overwinter exotic plants but also as a stage for imperial festivities. To this day, it is considered Vienna's oldest concert venue.

1786

W. A. Mozart vs. A. Salieri: The Baroque Duel

At the Schönbrunn Orangery, W. A. Mozart competes in a musical contest against his "rival" Antonio Salieri – at the imperial request of Joseph II.

The Dancing Congress

The "Dancing Congress of Vienna" convenes at the Schönbrunn Orangery, referring to the social programme in which European monarchs and diplomats celebrated while negotiating the reorganisation of Europe.

1918

Royal Residential Life

From 1740 to 1918, Schönbrunn Palace was the imperial summer residence of countless Habsburgs, including Empress Maria Theresa, Emperor Joseph II, Emperor Franz Joseph I, and Empress Elisabeth, known as "Sisi".

1980

The Orangery in New Splendour

The renovation of the Orangery began in 1980, and in 1985 Gerald Dunst designed a plan to redesign the Orangery parterre. It was not until 1992, with the founding of the Schloss Schönbrunn Kultur- und Betriebsgesellschaft, that comprehensive renovation began.

1996

UNESCO World Heritage

Schönbrunn Palace and Gardens are declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site, an honour recognising the unique combination of baroque architecture, garden art and centuries-old history.

1997
to today

A Musical Experience with Tradition

The Schönbrunn Palace Orchestra was founded in 1997 and in 2026 celebrated its 10,000th concert, plus more than 500 abroad. Today it performs daily in the historic Schönbrunn Orangery. On summer evenings, concert guests enjoy free access to the Orangery garden.
